HOW TO USE THIS BOOK

The Book of Random Tables: Masquerades is a resource for game masters and dungeon masters of fantasy role-playing games. Discover inspiration for RPG campaigns and enrich sessions with creative sparks.

The majority of the tables are D100, with some being D20. They are system-agnostic and can be used with any fantasy tabletop RPG. GMs and DMs can choose table results, roll during session prep, or let players roll during sessions.

The book is divided into five sections for ease of use. Below is an explanation of each section:

The first section is Items & Things. It contains these six D100 tables: Items in a Boudoir, Items in a Cloakroom, Items in a Drawing Room, Items in a Pantry, Items in a Smoking Room, and Items in an Orangery.

Next comes the section Food & Drink. Six hundred dishes and beverages drawn from history are represented here to add depth to RPG sessions.

Masks & Themes is a section comprised of two tables: Animal Masks and Themes. These tables provide options for character or non-player character masks. The Themes table can spark dungeon masters' imaginations in creating engaging masquerade balls.

The NPCs section holds one thousand non-player characters. The tables include Bards, 600 Guests, Hosts, Servants, and Uninvited Guests. There is also a Hidden Agendas table to add motives to NPCs and provide intrigue to sessions.

Bonus is a section containing smaller tables. The Encounters, Whispers in the Crowd, and Secret Rooms tables are D20. The Manor Locations table is a D100, though it offers only 50 options.

With these random tables, dungeon masters can craft interesting and creative grand balls. Intrigue and veiled mystery await—your invitation is here.
